As Account owner of the this Texas College Savings Plan Account, I understand and acknowledge that the following will apply:

Please review and fill in circles for all items in this section.

- I understand that as Custodian of a UGMA/UTMA account:
 - I am not the owner of the account, rather I hold the account as Custodian for the Beneficiary.
 - I may not change the Designated Beneficiary.
 - If I cancel the account, I personally will not receive a refund. Rather, a refund will be issued to the Beneficiary in order to comply with the intent of the UGMA/UTMA's creation and provide for proper taxation of any earnings.
 - It is my responsibility to refrain from exercising certain rights under the Texas College Savings Plan account in order to maintain the UGMA/UTMA qualified status.
 - It is my responsibility to notify the program when the custodianship terminates (the minor reaches the age of majority) at which time the Beneficiary becomes the account owner.
 - At the age of majority, the Beneficiary will become the account owner and will have all of the rights of the account even if I fail to notify the Plan of custodianship termination.
- Maintaining UGMA/UTMA status of the Texas College Savings Plan account is my responsibility as the Custodian of the account, and I hereby release the Texas College Savings Plan from any liability for any loss of UGMA/UTMA qualified status due to the purchase, servicing, cancellation or exercise of the rights under the Texas College Savings Plan.
- Every situation is unique and the Texas College Savings Plan does not give tax advice, nor does the Texas College Savings Plan endorse the use of UGMA/UTMA assets to fund a Texas College Savings Plan Account.
